The sun is shining, the garden is growing, and the temperatures are rising. It is summer time again. This is a great time of year. But not just because of all of the canning and preserving that goes on during this time.. For me, it is because of all of the fresh tomatoes that hang on the vine waiting to be preserved, eaten, or turned into the best tomato sandwich (which is a personal favorite ...

Those delicate cages are wholly inadequate for supporting tomato plants--at least here in Nebraska. I won't say much more, since--who knows--probably somewhere in the world they are perfectly adequate for holding up tomato vines, and--who knows?--perhaps the designer of these cages is a sweet octogenarian who might be--at this very moment!--squinting at these words. ☐☐

"Let's Call the Whole Thing Off" is a song written by George Gershwin and Ira Gershwin for the 1937 film Shall We Dance, where it was introduced by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers as part of a celebrated dance duet on roller skates. The song is most famous for its "You like tomato / t ə ' m er t ə / / And I like tomahto / t ə ' m α: t ə /" and other verses comparing their different ...

Let's Call the Whole Thing Off - Wikipedia

The tomato is the edible, often red, berry of the plant Solanum lycopersicum, commonly known as a tomato plant. The species originated in western South America. The Nahuatl (Aztec language) word tomatl gave rise to the Spanish word tomate, from which the English word tomato derived. Its use as a cultivated food may have originated with the indigenous peoples of Mexico.
